SME Columbus Chapter Presents

BriskHeat Tour and Presentation

April 25th, 2024

BriskHeat Corporation has been providing electrical surface heating solutions for applications such as condensation prevention, viscosity control, freeze protection, composite curing, and process heating for 75 years. Their products are used in industries such as semiconductor manufacturing, aerospace, construction, oil & gas, food & beverage processing, general manufacturing, plastics, and composites.

Our tour will highlight their manufacturing of heating elements, custom cloth heating jackets, and silicone rubber heating blankets. You'll learn about heating applications for your home as well as business.

How do you know how much and what type of heat your process requires? Do you know how to increase the efficiency of your process heating system? How much and what type of insulation is required? The second half of our program will feature BriskHeat's Sales Strategist Edye Buchanan, CMfgT discussing process heaters, applications and energy efficiency!

Plus...BRISKHEAT IS HIRING engineers and manufacturing personnel. Managers will be on site to accept resumes and answer questions. For more information, visit www.briskheat.com
